There is a small cemetery near a small church. Some of the graves are without stones and one stone seems to be without a grave. The name on this stone is:

William Lansing- born 3-7-1808, died 6-26-1880.

The stone leans against a tree. It is possible that the tree has grown through the grave.

STODDARD FAMILY

In the office of Heraldry, England, the following origin of the Stoddard Family is found.

Thomas Stoddard of Royston

John Stoddard of Grinden

William Stoddard of Royston

Anthony Stoddard of London

Gideon Stoddard of "

Anthony Stoddard " "

William Stoddard " "

Anthony Stoddard " " , who emigrated to Boston in 1639

"The name of Stoddard is derived from the office of Standard Bearer and was originally written De-La-Stoddard.

"William Stoddard, a knight, came from Normandy to England, in 1066, with his cousin, William the Conquer. Of his descendant, we find record of Richard Stoddard of Nottingham, Kent; near Eltham and about seven miles from London Bridge, where was located the family estate of about 400 acres. This estate was in possession of the family in 1490, how much before that is not known, and continued until the death of Nicholas Stoddard, a bachelor, in 1765.

"ANTHONY STODDARD emigrated to Boston, from England about 1639. He was admitted Freeman in 1640, was a representative.

in 1658-1659-1660 and during twenty years from 1665-1684. He married first, Mary, daughter of Emmanuel Downing, of Salem. Emmanuel Downing and his wife, Lucy, were admitted to the church Nov. 4, 1638. Mary Downing was a sister of Sir George, afterwards Lord George Downing. Anthony and Mary Stoddard's oldest son, SOLOMON, was born Oct. 4, 1643. He graduated from Harvard in 1662 and was afterwards elected a "FELLOW" of the House", and was the first Librarian of the College, which office he held from 1667-1674. About this time, on account of his health he accompanied the Governor of Mass. to Barbadoes in capacity of Chaplain, and he remained there nearly two years, preaching to the Descenders. He married Mrs. Esther Mather, originally Ester Merham, of Winsor, Conn. He settled in Northhampton, Mass., where he was preacher for many years. In 1726, Jonathan Edwards, his grandson, was elected his colleague. Rev. Solomon Stoddard published many religious books of value."

"To those acquainted with the religious and philosophical labors of the last century little need be said of Jonathan Edwards. To those interested in his ancestry it is pleasing to know that his biographers attribute no small part of his intellect and ability to his mother, who was the second daughter of our honored ancestor, Solomon Stoddard, of Northhampton, Mass."

JOHN COLVIN

*****

It is traditional that John Calvin, born in England about 1655, at Bristol, ran away and secreted himself on a ship at Bristol Harbor which was about to sail for America. The boy had undoubtedly heard of the colony settled at Plymouth a few years earlier, and wished to try his fortunes in the new land. Our first record of him is at Dartmouth, then a part of the "Old Plymouth Colony". His name was sometimes written "Calvin". One Mathew Allen, by deed dated February 15, 1683, conveyed as follows:

"In consideration of love and affection, and for divers other good causes and consideration, I do hereby convey to Dorothy Calvin and John Calvin, her husband, twenty five acres of upland upon which said John now lives, also five acres of meadow or salt marsh."

So it seems that John Calvin married Dorothy Allen.

May 3, 1697, Joseph Ripley lands near by to John Calvin. Dec. 26, 1691, John Calvin and wife Dorothy conveyed land to Seth Pope. August 31, 1705, John and Dorothy conveyed land in Dartmouth to Stephen Easton, of Newport, R.I. In 1710 he acquired land in Rhode Island and he and his family moved to that state, to a town which afterwards was Cranston, Providence Co.

*****

The Lane Family possesses a will of Samuel Colvin, Sr. son of John Colvin, dated Oct. 5, 1754, witnessed by Rev. James Colvin, (brother), Benjamin and Jno. Fisk, related by marriage. The lettering of the will has been written in the records using the modern"s" in place of the old English letter as in the original.

"In the name of God, Amen:

"I, Samuel Colvin, of Coventry in the County of Kent, in New England, Yoeman, being weak in body, but in my Right Mind and Perfect memory and sound understanding as to a Disposing mind, praise be given to Almighty God for the same; and knowing it is Appoynted once for man to dye, and not knowing how soon it may please God to take me from this present world, Do make this my Last Will and Testament.

"First; and principally I give and bequest my soul to God who Gave it, and my Body to the Earth to be decently buried at the discretion of my Executors hereinafter named; and as to what Earthly Estate it has pleased God to Bless me with all, I dispose of in the manner and form following:

*****

I give and bequest unto my loving wife Phoebe Calvin the privilege of the best room in my house during the time she remains my widow.

"Item: I give and bequest to my loving son Thomas Colvin the sum of five shillings current money in the old tenure, to be paid by my executors hereafter named."

Like bequests to Abigail Franklin, Joseph Colvin, Elizabeth Daly, Sarah Burlingame, Mary Wight, Susannah Colvin, Temperance Colvin, Phoebe Colvin, But Richard and Rufus Colvin for some reason are bequested fifty pounds each. He goes on:

"I make, ordain and appoynt my loving son Samuel Colvin to be my whole and sole executor, to see this, my Will performed, and to pay all Just Debts and take and Receive all that is or hereafter shall be coming due unto me.

"I give and bequest to my loving son Samuel, all the residue of my Estate, both Real and Personal, to be and to remain unto him, my son, Samuel Colvin, his heirs and assigns forever, whom I have appoynted my Executor, except the privilege of a Burying Place for all mine to Bury there if they see fit."

Follows a memoranda by Jno. Fisk that he made a "mystake" in the name of one of the Legatee, that Temperance should have been written "Contente".

*****

This statement by Mr. Fisk was dated Jan. 14, 1760, and the will approved in the Town Council held in Coventry, on "ye 14th Jany. 1760." "Test, Caleb Greene." Further endorsed "Recorded in Coventry, Mary ye 11th, 1760, in the Book of Council Records, Page 141 & 2, Caleb Greene, Council Clk."

One cannot but feel that "my loving wife, Phoebe" who undoubtedly labored and served as Colonial women did, might have drawn a little something more that "the best room in my house while she remains my widow". Wives in this day would feel little inducement long to remain his "Widow."

An inventory of the estate was attached, property appraised in pounds, shillings, etc., and seems to have valued higher than like property would be now. Everything down to candlesticks and snuffers were listed.

Samuel Colvin Jr. was a commissioned officer in the Colonial Troops, and is reported to have held a Captain's Commission in the old French and Indian War, prior to the Revolution, and Joseph Volney Colvin of Bonas, Coone Co., Ill., has a powder horn once used by him, on which are cut his initials, "S.C."

JOHN COLVIN

*****

Samuel Calvin's commission as Ensign in the Colonial Troops reads as follows:

"British Coat of Arms."

"By the Honorable Samuel Ward, Esquire, Governor and Captain, General of the English Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantation (*) in

New England in America, to

Samuel Colvin, Gent, Greeting:

*(The Old English "s" is used throughout this commission.)

"You, Samuel Colvin, being by the General Assembly of this Colony, elected and chosen to the Place and Office of Ensign of the First Company or Trained Band, of Coventry, in the County of Kent, in the Colony aforesaid, are hereby in the name of his Most Sacred Majesty George, the Third, by the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, and so forth, authorized, empowered and commissioned to have, take and exercise the office of Ensign of the Company aforesaid and to command, conduct and guide the same, or any part thereof. And in case of any invasion or assault of an Enemy, to infest or disturb this, His Majesty's Plantation, you are to alarm and gather together the Company under your Command, or such part thereof as you shall deem sufficient, and with them to the utmost of your skill and ability, you are to resist, expel, kill and destroy the same in order to preserve the interest of His Majesty and subjects in these parts. You are also to follow such further Instructions and directions as shall from time to time be given forth either by the General Assembly, the Governor and General Council, or other, your superior Officers, and for your so doing, this shall be sufficient warrant. Given under my hand and the Seal of the Colony aforesaid, the Sixteenth Day of September, in the Fifth year of His said Majesty's Reign, 1765.

*****

"By His Honor's Command, Henry Ward, Secy. Sam Ward,"

Abraham Colvin, son of Samuel, spoken of above, moved from Coventry, R.I., to Smithfield, Pa., with his family in 1818, by "Covered Wagon." They were nineteen days on the road, exclusive of stopping at Joshua King's who lived in Otsego Co. near Cherry Valley. A son, Newman Colvin, describes this new country in Pennsylvania, as being heavily timbered "you almost have to look twice to see over the trees."

"We have enough to eat and drink. I bought twelve bushels of potatoes for fifty cents per bu." and he expected to buy "fifty acres of land for $2 per acre on five years credit without interest."

*****

This Newman Colvin came to Pennsylvania as a full-fledged teacher; bearing a Certificate which states:

"Sterling, R.I. Nov. 2nd, A.D. 1811.

From personal Acquaintance I can say that Mr. Newman Colvin is a person qualified to teach a school in spelling, reading, writing, english grammar, arithmetic and surveying according to the most approved rules. - He is a steady young man and has a good moral character. I understand that he has given good satisfaction as an instructor for the two seasons past.

John Munroe, Jr."

"Surveying" was essential knowledge in that day of hazy geographical lines. The paper of these old documents is yellowed and worn, but the ink is still black and the "John Hancock" style of writing as plain and legible as though freshly indited.

All the old letters of the Colvin-King-Hale family are pervaded with a strong religious spirit. In 1823 Newman Calvin writes, "Tom Payne may write his 'Age of Reason' or Ethan Allen metamorphize the Bible, but I praise God His Word standeth sure and I feel glad in His name that it will endure."

*****

His Puritan ancestor of 1655, no doubt, still living in him. So far as our records go, we find brave, true men, doing their duty by "His Majesty", but later hesitating not one minute to seize powder horn and musket in defense of their rights to live in and love a country all their own. It makes one feel in reading of them, one's duty to sacrifice and strive to continue the work they have so nobly begun.

In the Genealogical and Historical Records of the Lane-Colvin-Hale-King-Family, the Colvins date back to 1655. The Genealogical Record begins with John Colvin who came from England about 1655 and ends Nov. 1, 1926 with Edna Lane Mahan, the writer of this record, which was carefully and laboriously compiled by the late Edgar C. up, he will be more for you (I am persuaded) than ever he was. His unfeigned love toward us hath been such as I cannot indeed express; and though he be a man not swayed by passion or led by uninferred affections, yet hath he cloven to us still amidst all persuasions of opposites, and could not be moved to have an evil thought of us, for all their clamors.

His patience and contentment in being oppressed, hath been much; he hath sometimes lent 800 pounds at one time, for other men to adventure in this business, all to draw them on; and hath indeed, by his free heartedness, been the only glue of the company. And if God should take him now away, I scarce think much more would be done, save as to inquire at the dividend what is to be had. He saith he hath received the tokens you sent and thanks you for them, he hath sent you a cheese, also he hath sent an heifer to the plantation, to begin a stock for the poor. There is also a bull and three or four jades to be sold unto you with many other things for apparel and other uses; which are committed to Mr. Allerton and Mr. Winslow, who as factors are to sell them to you; and it was fitter for many reasons to make them factors than yourself, as I hope you will easily conceive.

And I hope through the first project case, yet it shall never be the worse for you, neither will any man be discouraged but wait on God, using the good means you can, I have no time to write many things unto you; I doubt not, but upon the hearing of this alterations, some discontent may arise, but the Lord I hope will teach you the way which you shall choose.

For myself, for as I have labored by all means to hold things here together, so I have patiently suffered this alteration; and do yet hope it shall be good for you all, if you be not too rash and hasty, which if any be, let them take heed that they reap not the fruit of their own vanities.

But for you, good Sir, I hope you will do nothing rashly neither will you be swayed by misreports, beside your ordinary course, but will persuade who may be, to patience and peace and to the bearing of labors and crosses in love together.

I hope the failing of your friends here will make you the more friendly one to another, that so all our hopes may not be dashed. Labor to settle things both in your civil and religious courses, as firm and as full as you can be.

*****

Lastly, I must entreat you still to have a care of my son, as your own; and I shall rest bound unto you; I pray you let him sometimes practice writing, I hope the next ships to come to you; in the mean space and ever, the Lord be all your directions and turn all your crosses and troubles, to his own glory, and our comforts, and give you to walk so wisely and holily, as none may justly say, but they have always found you honestly minded though never so poor. Salute our friends, I pray you, what is failing in my letter.

From London, December 22, A.D. 1624.

The following note was by Gov. Bradford:-

"These were his last letters. And now we lost the help of a wise and faithful friend; he wrote of the sickness and probability of the death of another; but knew not that his own was so near; what cause have we therefore ever to be ready: He proposed to be with us the next ships, but the Lord did otherwise dispose; and had appointed a greater journey to a better place. And here I must leave him to rest with the Lord."

Madam,

I shall take the freedom to acquaint your ladyship that I am well & in Good Health at Present, and I hope that these unfeigned lines will Find you in as Good a State of Health; I have met with Nothing worth Noticing since I saw you. I am very sorry that Mr. B---- has Falsified his Word by which means it has been a great disappointment to me, as well as to others, But I hope you will not Reflect me For I did all that was in my Power, he told me he would go any time after Thanksgiving, But now he says he cannot go at the time you know when, For which I think he is to blame. However I hope it will be for the better: I beg you will excuse me in writing to you in such a manner, But as I have always Delivered to you my mind as near as my weak Capacity will admit; So I hope you will not be backward in Communicating to me your thoughts when you have a Convenient Opportunity. Pray Mam Give my Compliments to Mrs. Tilde and to all Enquiring Friends if there should chance to be any. this being all at present From

Attleborough July the 2

My dear friends, at a late hour this afternoon, I returned home from providence & found Mr. Bliss at our house, happy to receive a letter from you, he also gave us one for Mr. Amos Ide, but alas, my friends it is mine the painful task to inform you that he now is numbered with the Dead, Oh what a dreadful havoc has Death made among some of our useful citizens. in the last ten days in march were committed to the dust Mr. Preston George Mr. Timoth Tingley & and his mother, Mr. David Smith, James Brown, son in law to Mr. Smith, John Drapers wife and Mr. Ide he was the last that died of that dreadful fever in this part of town after a sickness of four or five days his useful life was closed, it is now verry healthy in Attleboro. The benign influence of Divine goodness still shine upon us the work of Divine Grace still goes on gradually a number we trust of late pased from Death to life we hope there are a number about to confess to the world what God has done for their souls among the number are Mr. Otis Read & wife Cousin Tentey Hannah Fidge, Caty Cushman, Saphia George & Sam'l Tyler. I rejoice to hear of the reformation that is going on in the town in which you live.
